"Our Fair Ladies"

Senior - Sophomore Production Theme

Members of the Senior Class will have their last formal dinner with their Sophomore Sisters here on May 28. The traditional holiday meal will be served in the main Dining Hall at Ochre Court.

The Sophomores will provide entertainment later at Mercy Hall.

Reflections From The Sea

Invested with symbolic black
She felt a surge of pride—restrained
She glanced at the sea and wondered at its calm.

Another tide in its turning Churned restless as she peered into its depths
And wondered no longer

She gazed then in sympathy with the moods of her sea.
She saw its depths reflected now,
Its star imprisoned in her ring.

But the free will be free;
And now, in penetrating light,
She beholds the wide sea.

Unbound in force, unknown in fury,
unsounded in depth
Her sea? For such a little while
Was it hers—but now forever
She leaves her love by the sea.

But love lives on in memory
And forever is such a short time.

—Carol Cannon

Pat Dunigan, Chairman of Entertainment, is using the theme of "Our Fair Ladies" and is adapting words to the music of "My Fair Lady". Her committee will re-enact humorous incidents in the college days of the departing seniors. The graduating class will recall initiation week, their first visit to the Dean, semester exams, their ring ceremony, O. C. balls, comps, and finally, graduation.

Each senior will also receive a favor at the banquet, a small token of remembrance from her sophomore sister.

To Our Graduates - Congratulations and Farewell

With Commencement come fond farewells and sincere wishes for happiness in life. To you, the Class of 1958, we, the undergraduates extend these.

Some of us have been with you three years—others less—but all have enjoyed knowing you, working with you. It is with happiness that we say "Congratulations" and yet there is a note of sadness intertwined. When we return in September, we will no longer have the fun-loving crowd from Moore. We will have a new class—but it will not be the Class of 1958.

To some, you were the sophomores during initiation week always popping out of the strangest places and requesting the most unusual things; and yet thanks to our initiation, we had a preview of all the fun and happiness we would have with you for the next three years.

For the Class of 1960, you were the guides, the confidantes, the ones who knew the ropes and helped us to find the friendliness of college, the sense of belonging.

The Class of 1961 viewed you first with awe. You had almost completed the road we had just begun to travel. Gradually this awe changed to friendship, and we, too, say "thanks".

Again we say "Congratulations" and the best of everything always to the Class of 1958!

S. R. C. Holds Baby Day

On Wednesday, May 7, from two thirty to five thirty, the doors of Salve Regina College opened to welcome the return of some of the graduates and their young children. Yes, this was another Alumnae Baby Day!

About forty young ones milled about the Great Hall both fascinating and fascinated by the Sisters. To some Black habits are somewhat awesome and strange. Gradually this wore away and the children never had a more delighted audience.

Replies were received from graduates as far away as California, Puerto Rico, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio, New Jersey, and New York. The children present received little name tags and miniature medals of Our Lady.

No party would be complete without refreshments and this was truly a party. Their eyes sparkled as they viewed the table laden with ice cream, cookies, and milk. Politely they waited until either the Sisters or their mothers brought their refreshments to them.

Mrs. Patricia Sullivan Walsh, president of the Alumnae, was present and with four of her five children. Of all the Alumnae, Mrs. Walsh has the largest family.

The youngest baby was the five week old son of Mrs. Maureen Oates Sweeney.

Benediction celebrated by the Reverend Irving A. Georges, O.P., chaplain, concluded the day.

On April 29, 1958 the student body elected its slate of officers for Student Government for the coming 1958-59 year. The Council is as follows: Barbara Balzano, President; Marilyn Sullivan, Vice-President; Alice Violet, Secretary, and Deanna Encalada, Treasurer.

Barbara is exceptionally well-qualified to head the Student Council. In her sophomore year, Barbara was elected Vice-President of her class, and also chairman of the Sophomore Dance. As a Newport day-hop, Marilyn Sullivan has been active in the sodality, a member of the Ebb Tide staff, and participated in various other activities here at S. R. C. She is a sociology major and a business minor.

The newly-elected secretary of the Student Government is a home economics major and an education minor. Alice Violet resides at Marian Hall.

British Honduras is well-represented on the Student Council by Deanna Encalada who holds the office of Treasurer. Participation in activities on campus include being a member of the sodality and President of the Spanish Club.

It has been recently announced by Sister Mary Donald, R.S.M., that two sophomores, Carol Reardon and Anne Marie Smith will co-edit next year's Ebb Tide. A slight change has been made in that there are co-editors, with the position of associate editor omitted.

Carol Reardon for the past year has worked on Ebb Tide lay-out. Anne Marie Smith, also incoming president of the sophomore class, has worked on the paper as a reporter.

Two members of the new staff have also been announced. Anne Motte, retiring editor-in-chief, will take over the position of feature editor, replacing Dolores Matoes.

Marie McCarthy has been chosen as business manager replacing Deanna Mannix.

The remainder of the staff will meet with the new editors in the fall. Any girl who is interested in reporting, typing, or lay-out will please see Carol Reardon or Anne Smith when classes resume in the fall.
