

10-7-1983

Newsbulletin vol. 14, no. 1

Salve Regina College

Follow this and additional works at: <http://digitalcommons.salve.edu/newsbulletin>

Part of the Education Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Salve Regina College, "Newsbulletin vol. 14, no. 1" (1983). newsbulletin. 325.
<http://digitalcommons.salve.edu/newsbulletin/325>

This News Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Archives and Special Collections at Digital Commons @ Salve Regina. It has been accepted for inclusion in newsbulletin by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Salve Regina. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@salve.edu.

Salve Regina The Newport College

Newport, Rhode Island 02840

Published for the College Community on a weekly basis by the Office of Public Relations. Deadline Tuesday, NOON.

VOLUME 14 NUMBER 1

October 7, 1983

This issue of Salve Regina's Newsbulletin welcomes everyone back to Salve for the 1983-1984 academic year. There will be a few changes in format beginning with the next issue.

The Newsbulletin will be published for the College community on a bi-weekly basis by the Office of Public Relations. We hope to give the bulletin a new look. Future issues will be released on the first and third Fridays of every month with the deadline being on the previous Friday.

Department chairmen will be receiving request forms for information. These will allow faculty to submit announcements, events and other campus news they would like to see appear in the Newsbulletin.

Remember - the deadline for submitting information for the next issue is 11:30 a.m. on Friday, October 14.

---

FACULTY

---

Sister Sheila Megley, Vice President/Academic Dean, was invited to be a guest speaker at a Faculty Development Workshop at the Naval War College on Friday, September 30.

* * *

Congratulations to College faculty members on their recent promotions. The following have all been promoted to full professorships:

Brother John Buckley, History and Politics Department; Dr. Jack Childs, Human Development; Sister Prudence Croke, Religious Studies; Dr. John Greeley, Religious Studies; Brother Victor Hickey, Education; Dr. Richard Marquise, Criminal Justice, and Dr. Patricia Murray of the Sociology Department.

The rank of associate professor was awarded to Ms. Joan David of the English Department; Dr. Thomas Day, Music Director; Sister Madeleine Gregoire, Mathematics Department; Mr. Joseph Lacouture, Art Department, and Ms. Stephanie Muri, an instructor in the Soci-

NEWSBULLETIN

---

FACULTY (continued)

---

ology Department.

In the Nursing Department Mrs. Janet Kenty, Mrs. Mary DeMarino Lavin and Miss Jo Ann Mullaney, have been promoted to assistant professor. Mrs. Kathryn Rok, a teacher of special education, has also been awarded an assistant professorship.

* * *

Dr. Dorothy Troendle, Professor of English at Salve Regina, recently participated in the sixty-eighth annual training conference of the International Association for Identification in Orlando, Florida.

The conference is a world-wide meeting of forensic identification experts. Dr. Troendle spoke on voice identification and the role it plays in criminology. She was one of six Rhode Island members invited to the scientific conference.

Voice identification is a technique similar to fingerprinting. Each individual's voice pattern is unique. By evaluating a voice through spectrographic analysis, the person speaking can be positively identified. Voice identification is becoming an increasingly popular method of criminal identification.

Dr. Troendle also presented a paper in July at a seminar sponsored by the American Society for Industrial Security. The theme of the seminar was the Use of Scientific Methods to Deter Theft and Other Crimes.

Dr. Troendle's expert knowledge of linguistics and its relation to criminal investigation, as well as her familiarity with the technique of voice identification, made her an invaluable participant at both conferences. Dr. Troendle is currently teaching a course in the English Department entitled Voice Identification.

* * *

Dr. Maria Ceprano, a visiting assistant professor of education at Salve Regina - The Newport College, will be presenting four workshops on new and effective methods in the teaching of reading. The series of Saturday workshops will be held at O'Hara Academic Center - beginning October 15 with a discussion on diagnostic and remedial reading strategies for the classroom teacher of both regular and special education.

Designed for classroom teachers, reading supervisors, and college supervisors of student teachers in the grammar grades, the series will continue October 22 and 29 and will conclude November 5. Dyslexia, enrichment of reading skills by the development of writing skills, and strategies for facilitating content area reading in the classroom will be discussed respectively.

Dr. Ceprano is a researcher, writer, clinician, supervisor and teacher in the reading field. She has previously presented workshops at the Annual Convention of the International Reading Association.

For registration information call the Graduate Office at ext. 261.

---

FACULTY (continued)

---

Congratulations to Dr. Dennis Robbins, Director of the Graduate Program in Health Care Administration, on his recently published book titled, Legal and Ethical Issues in Cancer Care in the U.S.

* * *

---

STUDENT NEWS

---

Congratulations to junior, Debra A. Murphy, a nursing major, who has been selected to receive a Veterans Administration Health Professional Scholarship in a nation-wide competition. The award includes a monthly stipend, payment of tuition and fees, and an allowance for educational expenses.

Debra was one of 341 students selected nationally from over three thousand applicants. Selection for the award was based on academic performance, recommendations from health professionals, and on work experience. Applicants were also required to submit a personal essay on their goals and achievements. Once again - congratulations!!

* * *

A Salve College senior studying criminal justice engaged in a heroic feat this summer to make a little girl's wish come true. In August, Mick Coogan swam three and a half miles across the Sakonnet River as a fundraiser for A Wish Come True, Inc. - a charitable organization that raises funds for terminally-ill children. The money is used to grant the children a happy wish.

Mick raised over $1500 in pledges and this sum will send a little girl to Disney World. He plans to meet the stricken child before she leaves to have "her wish come true."

Mick is already planning to repeat his endurance venture next year.

* * *

---

ANNOUNCEMENTS

---

HELP WANTED - SENIORS: There are four class agent positions open in the Alumni Office for any interested senior. Applicants must be reliable, self-motivated and have a serious interest in helping to maintain communication between the College and its alumni. For further information contact: Sharon Caine, Alumni Office, ext. 223.

* * *

---

ANNOUNCEMENTS (continued)

---

THEATRE

There was a general meeting for all those interested in theatre, dance and applied music, Wednesday, October 5 at the Little Theatre in Mercy Hall.

For those who did not make the meeting it is not too late to sign up. There are still openings for performers, technicians and those interested in workshops in all aspects of the performing arts including costumes, make-up, stage crew, etc....

For more information call the Theatre Department, ext. 217.

* * *

Interested in helping another person learn basic skills necessary for day to day living? The Continuing Education Center for Exceptional Adults is looking for volunteers to work either Tuesday or Thursday, 7:00-9:00 p.m. throughout the school year. If you would like to learn more about this innovative and rewarding program attend our first volunteer teacher's meeting on Tuesday, October 11, 7:00-9:00 p.m. at O'Hare Academic Center, Rm. 114. There will be another meeting on Thursday, October 13 at 7:00 p.m., also in O'Hare. We are looking forward to seeing last year's teachers too!!

* * *

Robert Clary, better known to some as Corporal Louis LeBeau from television's "Hogan's Heroes" will be speaking about his experiences as a World War Two prisoner of war on Wednesday, October 26 at 8:00 p.m. in O'Hare Auditorium.

Clary, a survivor of the Holocaust, has been touring the country as a guest lecturer for the Simon Wiesenthal Center. The Center is a "unique and multifaceted institution dedicated to the universal recognition of a basic human premise: that through education and awareness, society will never allow an atrocity of the magnitude of the Holocaust to happen again."

The program's aim is to educate society on the horrors of the Holocaust so as to preserve most vividly the heinous memory for future generations. "Thirty years from now there will no longer be any eyewitnesses to the Nazi genocide," Robert explained. He believes that it is imperative to impress upon people now the magnitude and nihilism of the Holocaust. People must remember that the Holocaust did take place and that it is not merely a fantastic chapter out of a history book."

Clary, along with thirteen members of his family, was taken prisoner in 1942 and sent to a concentration camp. His family was later taken to Auschwitz to be gassed. Robert was sent to Buchenwald where he was used as slave labor. He was liberated from there in 1945 by the American Army.

After the war, Robert returned to Paris to begin a career in entertainment. He came to the United States in 1949, where he eventually gained recognition in all fields of entertainment; nightclubs, theatre, motion pictures and television.

---

ANNOUNCEMENTS (continued)

---

In the theatre Robert played in "New Faces," "Seventh Heaven," "La Plume de Ma Tante" and the musical version of "Around the World in 80 Days." Robert's motion pictures include, "Ten Tall Men," "Thief of Damascus," "New Faces," "A New Kind of Love" (with Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman) and the "Hindenburg" (with George C. Scott). Robert has also performed in nightclubs throughout the United States, Canada and Australia.

His role as LeBeau in television's Hogan's Heroes is perhaps his most famous role. Robert has also appeared on the soap opera "The Young and the Restless" and for five and a half years on "Days of Our Lives." Robert is currently filming the soon to be televised movie of the week "The World Gathering of Holocaust Survivors." He will play himself.

* * *

College Health Services will hold its first blood drive this year on Wednesday, October 12, 1983 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. We're hoping for a good turnout to help make this year's drive a success.

* * *