Women and Leadership: Economic, Political, and Cultural Aspects

The Journal of Interdisciplinary Feminist Thought invites contributions for its next issue: “Women and Leadership: Economic, Political, and Cultural Aspects.”

At a recent gathering of youth at the “Youth Venture 2012 Summit” held in Washington, D.C., participants were advised that a “leader is a person who guides others toward a common goal, showing the way by example, and creating an environment in which other team members feel actively involved in the entire process, not a boss, but a person committed to carrying out the mission of the venture.”

In this issue of the journal, the concept of women as leaders will be explored:

1. Concepts of Female Leadership

- Models of Female leadership
- Power and Leadership

2. Examples of Women and Institutional Leadership

- Historical perspectives
- Family, Religion, Education, and Health;
- Politics, Government, and the Economy
- Justice System and the Media

3. Historical Changes in Women’s Lives

- Civil Rights
- Women Suffrage
- Women’s Liberation
- Women’s leadership in Developing Countries
- Women and the Military
- Women in the Workplace

4.. Current Struggles and Future Challenges for Women as Leaders
