FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 1970

A Salve Regina College faculty member was the guest of Secretary of State William P. Rogers this week at a National Foreign Policy Conference in Washington, D. C.

Rep. Robert J. McKenna (D-99th District), an assistant professor of political science at the women's college, was one of 350 young political leaders taking part in the two-day program.

The group was addressed by ranking officers of the Department of State, Agency for International Development, and Department of Defense. Topics ranged from "The Foreign Policy Making Process" to "The Evolving Middle East Situation" and "Europe in the 1970's."

The conference was conducted in cooperation with the American Council of Young Political Leaders.
