RECENT AND FUTURE ACTIVITIES OF SRC'S PRESIDENT

Sister Lucille McKillop, President, recently has addressed two groups. The graduates of St. Xavier's Academy in Providence and the Executive Directors of Chambers of Commerce in New England. In her address to the Graduating Class of St. Xavier's Academy Sister Lucille exhorted them to achieve excellence. "... Excellence should be a characteristic of your uniqueness." Sister went on further to state, "... Let me attempt to enkindle in you an excitement for one additional quality of your uniqueness -- creativity. ... Uniqueness, God's gift to each of us, with its qualities of excellence and creativity enables us to live life to the fullest with the ability to awaken, to sensitize, and to energize each of you as a moral person who believes she is her "brother's keeper" and he, hers. This is more than responsibility and challenge. It is dream and vision, and this is what you and I need to be about."

Sister Lucille's address to the Chamber of Commerce was very challenging. One of Sister's questions was: "Are we far-seeing enough to recognize now the mutual impact of town and gown?"

On June 16 Sister Lucille was sworn in as a member of the Advisory Commission on Educational Television. The ceremony was in Governor J. Joseph Garrahy's office in the State Capitol.

Sister Lucille will be attending a Canon Law Institute in Madison, Connecticut next week. She will be representing the Chicago Province of the Sisters of Mercy.

FACULTY MEMBERS GIVE TALKS AND ATTEND CONFERENCES

Recently Brother Gene Lappin addressed a session of the 22nd annual Catholic Education Convention, Fall River Diocese. Brother Gene's topic was

"Educating for the Eighties: New Breeds of Student Needs."

Brother Eugene described four major problems and possible solutions. These included student apathy and lack of time, suggesting student and parental involvement in curriculum. The Convention was held at Bishop Feehan High School, Attleboro, Massachusetts.

Katherine Ostrander moderated a panel on June 1, 1977 at the Rhode Island Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers holding a Newport-located meeting for the first time in fifteen years. J. Clement Cicilline, director of the Newport Mental Health Clinic, Dr. Eunice Shatz, director of the Social Welfare program at RIC, and William Fascitelli, chairperson of the Chapter Committee on Legislation, formed the panel. The meeting was well attended by about forty professional persons from the Newport and Providence areas and is expected to be at least an annual event.

On June 15, 1977, the annual dinner meeting of the R.I. NASW Chapter Committee on Women's Issues met at the home of Katherine Ostrander. Dr. Eunice Shatz of RIC was present to discuss with the membership the incorporation of women's issues material in the planning of the proposed Master's Degree in Social Work at RIC.

The Newport County Task Force in Child Abuse and Neglect held its fourth meeting at Salve Regina College on June 22, 1977, at 10 a.m. in the Library at Ochre Court. R.I. State supervisors of Protective Services were present to discuss some of the gaps in services in Newport County.

Augustinian Institute of Peace and Justice

Sister Virginia Walsh and Father James Healy attended the Augustinian Institute of Peace and Justice held at Villanova University from June 15-17, 1977. The Institute was for college faculty and administrators seeking ways of linking academic expertise with the gospel of peace and justice. The main thrust of the peace and justice institute was to integrate peace and justice studies with a liberal arts program. The institute attempted to provide both a rationale for these studies and the "nuts and bolts" of implementing a peace and justice program within an interdisciplinary framework.

The Augustinian Institute was planned in response to the mandate of the NCEA, (National Catholic Educational Association). The mandate given to Catholic Institutes of Higher Learning is to incorporate a peace and justice program into the liberal arts curriculum of their respective Institutions.

CONGRATULATIONS

All at the College wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nykaza on the birth of their daughter Brigid. Brigid has already visited campus. She attended last Saturday's Liturgy, so she will be able to boast that her college career began when she was two weeks old. Congratulations Carl and Tara.

Tanya Kapla of 115 Kane Avenue in Middletown was crowned Miss Rhode Island in last Saturday's Miss Rhode Island Pageant. Tanya will go on to the Miss America's Pageant and is hoping to fulfill a twelve year dream by being crowned Miss America on September 10, 1977. If she is, it will be the first time a Rhode Island representative has become Miss America. We congratulate Tanya and wish her success in the last step towards her dream to become Miss America. Tanya is a member of the Class of 1979 and is an Art major.

Anthony Moretti, Class of 1973, class Valedictorian, who graduated magna cum laude with a Bachelor of Science degree in Law Enforcement, was recently named Police Chief of the Cranston, Rhode Island Police Department. The Administrators and Faculty of Chief Moretti's Alma Mater extend their congratulations and wish him well as he assumes his important responsibilities.

Congratulations are extended to the 242 students who have made the Spring Semester's Dean's List. To attain this honor a student must maintain a special college requirement for high scholastic standing and be enrolled in a degree program.
