FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 1971

Mrs. John F. Duffy, has joined the faculty of Salve Regina College, Newport, R. I., as an instructor of medical-surgical nursing.

A native of New York City, and a graduate of Villanova University, Mrs. Duffy earned her master of arts degree in medical-surgical nursing at Columbia University.

Prior to her current appointment, she served for nine years in the U. S. Navy Nurse Corps.

Mrs. Duffy is a member of the American Nurses Association, and the co-author of an article on "Nursing Histories in Naval Hospitals," which was published in the Journal of Military Medicine.

She is the daughter of Mrs. P. A. McLaughlin, 7 Stuyvesant Oval, New York City.

Salve Regina College, located on Newport's famed Cliff Walk above the Atlantic Ocean, is a fully accredited, Catholic liberal arts college for 700 women working toward baccalaureate degrees in a dozen major fields. The college is one of nine institutions of higher education conducted by the Sisters of Mercy of the Union in the United States.
