Salve Regina University Designation of Emeritus Faculty Status

The title “emeritus” is conferred upon outstanding faculty at their retirement to honor a distinguished career and provide a lasting connection between the faculty member and the Salve Regina community. Appointment to emeritus status is made by the President of the University to recognize an individual who has been an exceptional academic leader at Salve Regina University. The following criteria guide the selection of a faculty member who is considered by the President for Emeritus status:

- At least 20 years of service at Salve Regina University
- Voluntary retirement with rank of Professor earned at Salve Regina University
- Distinguished contributions to academic field and the University
- Nomination by department chair or dean
- Positive recommendation by Vice President for Academic Affairs

A Professor Emeritus retains the following:

1. Listing in faculty ranks in University catalogues
2. Library privileges
3. Salve e-mail
4. Participation in Faculty Assembly meetings as a non-voting member
5. Participation in ceremonial occasions such as Convocation and Commencement
6. Auditing of courses gratis as space allows
7. Eligibility to participate in the scholarly life of the institution through committee work, teaching, and research as invited by faculty, Vice President of Academic Affairs, or the President
8. Inclusion on faculty mailing lists
