Salve Regina College will receive a federal Equal Opportunity Grant of $46,900 allocated by the U. S. Office of Education. The grants, which were awarded to twelve Rhode Island colleges and universities, are intended to aid students in such financial need that they could not attend college without them. Authorized by the Higher Education Act of 1965, these grants must be matched by the college in the form of loans, private stipends or jobs.

The Salve Regina Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Glenn Guittari, sang a joint concert with the Fordham University Glee Club in Ochre Court. The Salve singers rendered three mountain ballads, arranged by Ron Nelson of Brown University; Shubert's "Serenade," with a vocal solo by Sister Marianne, chairman of the College's music department; and Leonard Cohen's "Story of Isaac," as arranged by Mr. Guittari. The combined chorus sang Randell Thompson's "Alleluia" and Brahms' "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place." Accompanist for the concert was junior nursing student Jeanne Roy.

THERE

Sister Mary Christopher, Salve Regina president, was presented an inscribed silver bowl in honor of her silver jubilee of profession to highlight the Fathers' Council Area Two dinner-dance last weekend at the Kirkbrae Country Club, Lincoln, R.I. The presentation was made by Mr. Edwin F. Mara, Fathers' Council president, on behalf of the entire Council. Co-chairmen of the successful social, attended by more than 100 Area One, Two, and Three parents of present students and alumnae, were the Hon. Antonio S. Almeida and Mr. Peter M. Amoriggi. Mr. Ernest Fontes handled tickets for the affair, and Mr. William F. Costello, publicity. Spearheading Area One and Area Three promotional efforts were Mr. Ernest J. Gagne and Mr. Michael Crowley, Fathers' Council chairmen for their respective areas. The Tommy Masso Orchestra provided the music for the dinner-dance which will benefit the Salve Regina Development Fund.

Mr. Ronald C. Brinn, vice president for development and public relations, has been re-elected to the New England District Executive Board of American College Public Relations Association and will serve as 1970-71 membership chairman for the six state conference.
