FOUR NEW NURSING INSTRUCTORS
AT SALVE REGINA COLLEGE

Sister Mary Christopher, R.S.M., president of Salve Regina College, Newport, R. I., today announced the addition of four nursing instructors to the division of nursing.

They are Mrs. Myra Halcomb Fisher of Portsmouth, R. I.; Mrs. Maureen A. Hull and Mrs. Alison L. Strunk, both of Newport; and Mrs. Ann Ellen Tschirch of Swansea, Mass.

Mrs. Fisher, who joins the teaching staff from the Bureau of Social Research, the Catholic University of America, and who holds a B.S. degree from the University of Cincinnati and an M.S.N. (psychiatric nursing) from the Catholic University of America, will be psychiatric nursing instructor.

Graduated from Salve Regina College in 1955, with a B.S. in nursing, Mrs. Hull received her M.S. degree from Boston College, and will be instructing her specialty-public health nursing.

Mrs. Strunk, a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and the University of Utah Graduate School of Nursing, specialized and will instruct in maternal and child health. Mrs. Tschirch, who holds a B.S. in nursing from Salve Regina College (1969) and an M.S. from Boston College, will instruct in medical-surgical nursing.

Salve Regina's division of nursing is a four-year academic program accredited by the department of baccalaureate and higher degree programs of the National League of Nursing. It offers correlated courses in general education and the liberal arts, together with professional subjects which include faculty guided laboratory practice in various health agencies and settings. There is also an accredited plan whereby graduates of associate degree and diploma programs are admitted to the four-year program.

In of this year, the College graduated 33 nurses and six medical technologists in an allied program.
