Salve Regina College last night inducted over 80 men into the college's Alumni Association at a dinner-dance in Ochre Court for all Bachelor Degree graduates of Salve Regina's Law Enforcement Program.

The men are members of the Class of 1970-73, and were not previously eligible for membership in the college's Alumnae Association, a hold-over from Salve's days as an all women's college. This July, Salve Regina became fully coeducational, however, and the Law Enforcement Program became part of the regular college curriculum. The change also meant that the college's graduates be called alumni and not alumnae.

Mary Connolly, president of the old Alumnae Association and now president of the new Alumni Association, welcomed the group's first male members.

"Now that we are officially coeducational, we invite you to join us as alumni of Salve Regina as well as graduates of the Law Enforcement Program. Since we traditionally hold a dinner for graduating seniors, we thought it only fitting that we invite you here tonight as our 'special guests' and most
