Salve Regina College will host the combined Annual Meeting and Continuing Legal Education Institute of the New England Bar Association on November 2 and 3, 1973. The New England Bar Association is a group of over 24,000 professionals from State Bar Associations throughout New England.

The Annual Meeting of NEBA will be held Friday at Salve's Ochre Court. Agenda for the day includes a series of committee meetings on such topics as "Environmental Law," "Economics of Law Practice," and "Insurance for the Bar." A dinner-dance and address by former Rhode Island Governor Frank Licht will complete Friday's program.

On Saturday, NEBA will hold its Continuing Legal Education Institute where guest lecturers will speak on "Condominium Documents from the Purchasers Perspective" and "Guidelines for Determining Lawyers' Fees." Panelists include John P. Pendleton, Esq. of Sulloway, Hallis, Godfrey and Soden, Concord, New Hampshire; Rudolph Kass, Esq. of Brown, Rudnick, Freed and Gesmer, Boston, Massachusetts; John A. Pike, Esq. of Ropes and Grady, Boston, Massachusetts; Ralph P. Dupont, Esq. of Dupont, Pavetti and Dupont, New London, Connecticut; and Mitchell W. Miller, Esq. of Levi, Mandel and Miller, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.
