ATWOOD LECTURE SERIES

The M. Atwood Lecture Series is sponsoring two upcoming lectures. This Lecture Series is being offered via Salve Regina's Department of Philosophy which was a recipient of a grant by Donaldson Trusts. Mrs. Atwood is a trustee of the Donaldson Foundation.

The first lecture, "Laughter in Hermes and Plato," is an investigation into laughter as it is used in the comic and tragic sense. It will be presented Thursday, March 25, by guest lecturer Charles Boer. Dr. Boer is a professor of English at the University of Connecticut, and is a translator of the "Homeric Hymns." He has also authored two books on Marsilio Ficino, a Renaissance humanist who founded the Platonic Academy in Florence, Italy. The lecture is at 8:00 pm in O'Hare auditorium tonight. It is free and the public is invited.

FACULTY NEWS

Katy Ostrander of the Social Work Program, recently attended the Annual Program Meeting of the Council on Social Work Education in New York City. With members of the faculty of Adelphi University and of the University of Washington, she formed a Committee for Social Work Education for Social Action. The Committee is concerned that greater emphasis be placed on the need for social action in today's society; it urged the Board of Directors of the Council to focus on teaching social action skills in future meetings. Increasingly the curriculum of the Social Work Program of Salve Regina College offers students opportunities to develop these skills.

Jay Lacouture has been invited to attend a one-day dialogue on "Preparation for College in the field of Art" at Rhode Island School of Design. This event is sponsored by the College Board and is an attempt to improve the quality of education in preparing students to enter College. The dialogue is scheduled for April 5.

Sister M. Josepha Haskins has been invited for the 10th consecutive year to join the committee of judges at the Massachusetts Regional Science Fair held at Durfee High School in Fall River, Massachusetts.

National Foreign Language Week was observed by members of the French Department. Sisters Theresa McQueeney and Eugena Poulin attended a panel discussion on "Global Education in Foreign Languages and Social Studies" at Barrington High School. Panelists from the departments of Languages and History at U.R.I. considered the complementary roles of social studies and foreign languages in creating a global perspective for students.

On Saturday, March 13, Sister Marie Janelle, Brother Gene Lappin, Sister Theresa McQueeney and Sister Eugena Poulin attended the third annual colloquium on Franco-American Studies--"Les petits Canadas"--at Assumption College, in Worcester.

On Sunday, March 21, Sister Theresa McQueeney spoke at the Filipino-American Association meeting on the subject of Language Learning.

Faculty members from three departments participated in a day-long workshop held at Rhode Island Community College on Saturday, March 6. The workshop was sponsored by the Rhode Island group for Faculty Development. The faculty members from Salve Regina who attended the workshop were: Sisters Madeleine Gregoire and Josepha Haskins and Brother Francis Nolan.

LIVING TOGETHER IN A FISH BOWL

The Counseling Service Office and the Miley R.A.'s are presenting an evening's discussion group, "Living Together In a Fish Bowl: Sink or Swim" on Tuesday, March 30, at 8:00 pm. This informed group discussion will address patterns of considerate and inconsiderate behaviors in residence hall life. All Miley residents are invited to participate. The discussion will be held in the Alumni Lounge, Miley Hall.

PERSPECTIVES ON ALCOHOL SERIES-

The next presentation in the "Perspectives on Alcohol" series is scheduled for Wednesday, March 31, at 7:40 pm in Room 215 of the O'Hare Academic Center. This session will consist of a presentation by a panel of four recovered alcoholics. Carty B., Tom S., Sheila S., and Joe R. will share their personal experiences with alcohol and alcoholism in a "mock A.A. meeting" format. There will be ample opportunity for audience interaction and questions. All students, faculty, and staff are welcome to attend this fourth presentation in this series.

Also scheduled:

"Alcohol and Your Health:
To Drink or Not to Drink" Thursday, April 22, ITC, Angelus Hall
