GOING, GOING, GONE

The second annual Senior Class Auction, sponsored by the Alumni Office, will be held in Mercy Hall at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, February 14. (That's Valentine's Day!) Students will be contacting you to ask for your contribution of some creative gift or service to be auctioned that evening. Faculty and staff members may call ext. 223 to find out their student contact or may send gift pledges directly to the Alumni Office. Students interested in helping on that evening should call Valorie Sheehan or Sharon Caine at ext. 223.

GIFT IDEAS!

1. Homemade cookies each week for a month.
2. Bag of groceries.
3. Tickets to an athletic or cultural event.
4. Handknit mittens, scarf, sweater.
5. Typing/editing of a paper.
6. Laundry, washed, dried and folded for two weeks.
7. Dinner at the home of a faculty/staff member.
8. A sailboat trip for two with faculty/staff member.
9. Packed picnic basket for two.
10. Flowers delivered to student's room/dorm once a month.

For additional gift ideas contact the Alumni Office for a "Wish List" at ext. 223. The second annual Senior Class Auction promises to be a fun-filled evening. See you there!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ATWOOD LECTURE SERIES TO FEATURE REVEREND JAMES SKEHAN; GEOLOGY VS. THEOLOGY IS TOPIC

The Atwood Lecture Series will sponsor a lecture, "Is God a Creationist: Where do Geology and Theology Meet?", by Reverend James Skehan, S.J. on Wednesday, February 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the O'Hare Auditorium.

The lecture will concentrate on the Creationist theory of evolution vs. the scientific theory. Creationists deduce from the Bible that the earth is approximately 6,000 years old. According to geologists and their study of rock formations, the earth is at least 4,500 million years old. Father Skehan will discuss these differing opinions and whether the two can be reconciled so that people may simultaneously believe in both the Bible and science.

Reverend Skehan, Director of the Weston Observatory and the Department of Geology and Geophysics at Boston College since 1974, holds a Ph.L., S.T.B. and S.T.L. from Weston College and a Ph.D. in geology from Harvard University.

The lecture is free and open to the public. For further information contact Sister Esther Whalen at ext. 242.

CAREER AWARENESS WEEK

The Career Planning and Placement Office has scheduled a "Career Awareness Week" beginning Monday, February 25 through Saturday, March 2. The week-long event will be highlighted by "Career Day" on Wednesday, February 27 from 10:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

A lecture by author Tom Jackson, entitled "Guerilla Tactics in the Job Market," will be presented on Tuesday, February 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the O'Hare Auditorium. Mr. Jackson is a national authority on jobs and the job market and is the author of "The Hidden Job Market," "The Perfect Resume" and "Get the Job You Want in 28 Days." The lecture, co-sponsored by the Student Academic Senate, is $1 for Salve students and senior citizens and $2 for the general public.

On Saturday, March 2 at 2:00 p.m. in Ochre Court, the Career Planning and Placement Office along with the SRC Alumni Association will sponsor a fashion show, "Dress for Success," with fashions by G. Fox. A general admission of $4 will be charged; $2 for students and senior citizens.

Included in the week's events will be special career presentations by guest speakers. Employment recruiters will also be available to discuss career opportunities.

Career Awareness Week is open to the College community and the general public. For a complete calendar of events and further information contact Bernice Whitaker, Career Planning and Placement, ext. 280.

COMMUTER CENTER

The BOATHOUSE has taken on a new look and a new service for Salve Regina's commuting students. Officially opened on January 29th, 1985, the Boathouse now offers vending machines - drinks, snacks and candy; third class mailboxes; book lockers; coffee and donuts-available 8:30-11:30 a.m. daily; and a fridge to keep your lunch in while at class. Presently open from 8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. on school days, the Center can be used for study, relaxation, and lunch or snacking.

Anyone wishing to have his/her name on a mailbox may fill out an information sheet which can be obtained from the Center Director, Sister Mary Consilii.

Commuters need not be the unknown students on campus! Drop in, get acquainted, and become an active, involved member of the Salve Community!

THANK YOU

The Young Parents Program of Rhode Island, Inc. (YPP) is most pleased to announce that the Salve community contributed more to the 1984 YPP United Way Donor Option Drive than any other organization. Also, 1984 pledges ($1,537.00) were almost double those of 1983 ($834.00).

Program participants, staff and members send special thanks to each person who contributed. Your support is most sincerely appreciated.
