SALVE REGINA TO HOLD NINTH ANNUAL GOVERNOR'S BALL

The Ninth Annual Salve Regina College Governor's Ball will usher in the holiday season on Saturday, December 7. The Ball, one of the earlier Christmas season galas in the state, will take place in the elegance of Ochre Court from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

Joining Sister Lucille McKillop in hosting the event are Governor and Mrs. Edward D. DiPrete. This year's Ball marks Governor DiPrete's first in that capacity. The black-tie affair attracts friends and supporters of the College as well as members of the College community. The annual fundraising event helps to supplement the scholarship program for Salve students. General chairmen for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Skala of North Providence.

The decor of Ochre Court will reflect a Victorian theme. Included in the festive ambiance will be lighted, tree-shaped centerpieces of boxwood. Primary to the decorations are gold and white ribbons and the thematic use of cherubs. December greens, such as balsam and pine, will adorn the nineteenth century mansion's arches, bannisters and sconces.

Students from Sigma Phi Sigma, the College's honor society, will serve as hosts and hostesses at the $200-per-couple ball. Valet parking will be provided. Guests will be greeted upon their arrival with traditional caroling presented by small groups throughout Ochre Court from the Salve Regina College Choruses under the direction of Brother James Loxham.

SALVE REGINA COLLEGE AND THE NEWPORT INSTITUTE TO HOLD CONFERENCE ON MULTINATIONAL CORPORATIONS

Salve Regina College's Trimester Graduate Program in cooperation with The Newport Institute have organized a conference, "Multinational Corporations: Are They Harmful or Beneficial to U.S. Interests?", to be held Saturday, November 16 in the O'Hare Auditorium.

A major concern of informed American citizens centers on the role of multinational corporations. These corporations have been accused of total social immorality and unpatriotic behavior. They have been charged with robbing Americans of jobs, inciting revolutions, trading with the "enemy" and consistently putting their own interests above the national good. The opposite view is that multinational corporations have brought political stability and economic welfare to many areas by knitting together disparate peoples into a world-embracing economic force.

The one-day conference will provide the opportunity for concerned citizens to explore these opposing views. Speakers will include Martin J. Gerra, Manager of International Economics for IBM, Ian Colville Kinniburgh, a Transnational Corporations Affairs Officer for the United Nations, and David R. Malpass, a Senior Analyst for Taxes and Trade of the U.S. Senate Budget Committee. Dr. Robert Jordan, Distinguished Visiting Professor of Strategy at the Naval War College, will serve as the conference chair.

The program, designed to include audience participation, will begin with coffee and registration at 9:00 a.m. and conclude promptly at 4:00 p.m. The advanced registration fee of $25 per person or $40 per couple will cover coffee and lunch. Registration at the door will be $30 per person.

For further information contact Dr. Heath Twichell at extension 396.
