SENIOR CLASS AUCTION

The 1986 Senior Class Auction, arranged for the eve of St. Valentine's Day, was proclaimed the greatest ever--more participants, more prizes, more laughs, more fun. A standing-room-only crowd from the entire College community gathered in Carey Mansion to contest the value of rare and delectable gifts donated by the faculty and staff. A witty and fast-talking team of auctioneers--Diane Caplin, Peggy Denness, Tom Flanagan, Anne Hyland, and Lois Wims--maintained the spirited bidding and supplied the rollicking comedy.

Thanks to the generous audience and the dedicated organizational work of the 1986 Class Agents, over two thousand dollars was raised for the Annual Fund as a splendid gift from the Senior Class to their Alma Mater. The Senior Class is especially grateful to the members of the faculty and staff who supplied the choice assortment of auction offerings.

Winning bidders who obtained items on credit are reminded to settle accounts promptly. Payments can be readily made in the Alumni Office on the third floor of Ochre Court any time during normal office hours.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PHOTOGRAPHS BY SHARLIN TO BE EXHIBITED AT MCKILLOP GALLERY

The Art Department at Salve Regina will present A Common Denominator, an exhibition of photographs by Jonathan Sharlin. The show opens Thursday, February 20 and runs through Thursday, March 13. Sharlin will be showing photographs created with a large format camera. He places himself within the photographs, juxtaposing himself with the other subjects. Through these photographs Sharlin is investigating the relationship between himself and subject. Sharlin says he is "fascinated with the photographic medium, its ability to render detail and tell a story, be it true or false."

An opening reception will be held on Thursday, February 20 from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. at the McKillop Gallery in Mercy Hall.

Sister Mary Aquin O'Neill, R.S.M., of the Department of Religious Studies, has published an article in the Spring issue of the Southwestern Journal of Theology. The article, "Becoming a Catholic," was commissioned as part of a three year dialogue on grace conducted by Roman Catholic and Southern Baptist scholars. The entire Spring issue of the SWJT is devoted to the results of that dialogue.

On February 17, Sister Mary Aquin traveled to Baltimore to participate in the Sister Cleophas Costello Lecture Series. Her topic was "Issues in the Administration of Justice: Punishment and the Responsible Self."

IRISH HERITAGE CONCERT

"Land of Song" is the title of this year's Irish heritage concert to be held for two performances in Ochre Court. The evenings of traditional Irish song and dance will be presented Friday, March 7 and Saturday, March 8.

The individual and combined choruses of Salve Regina will perform their interpretations of such Irish ballads as "The Snowy-Breasted Pearl", "The Kerry Dances", "The Maid of Randalstown", "The Rakes of Mallow", and "The Wren Song." A few of the concert's songs will feature soloists.

Musical accompaniment will be provided by a small Salve ensemble. Included in the instrumental back-up will be flute, violin, cello and piano. Sheila Falls, former world champion of Irish fiddle music, will also be featured.

The Irish Lace Dancers of Boston will be an additional attraction at the performance. Ranging in age from 11 to 23, the dancers will perform traditional Irish steps such as reels and jigs. They also choreograph some of their own dances including "Waterford Crystal." In March, the Irish Lace Dancers leave for Ireland and the World Championship in Irish Dancing.

Tickets for the 90 minute concert go on sale at Cecilia Hall on Monday, February 24. Tickets for the general public are $5, $3 for Salve faculty and staff and $2 for Salve students. Tickets may be purchased Monday - Friday between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Both performances begin at 8 p.m.

For further information contact the Music Department at extension 445.

Sky has sold out Carnegie Hall and played for standing room only audiences all over the U.S., Canada and Europe. He has six albums to his credit and has produced over 22. To quote "Billboard": "All purpose is the word for Patrick Sky. He sings, plays excellent guitar and pipes, writes songs, and even better, tells horrible stories..."

The concert is free and open to the public. Patrons are invited to bring a lunch for the one-hour performance. For further information contact the Music Department at extension 445.
