ANNUAL GOVERNOR'S BALL WHIRLS INTO FINAL PLANNING STAGES

The strains of the Duke Belaire Orchestra will fill Ochre Court for the College's Governor's Ball, a black tie fundraising event, scheduled for Saturday, December 3 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Richard Carbotti of Perfect Surroundings will orchestrate the theme, A Traditional Christmas, and Blackstone Caterers will prepare Hors d'oeuvres and a midnight repast. Proceeds will benefit the College's Financial Aid Program.

Over 1,200 invitations have been sent to friends and associates of the College, but you can still reserve a place at the gala event by contacting Ann Marie LoRe at extension 223. Tickets cost $125 per person.

MARK YOUR CALENDARS FOR MUSIC CONCERTS

The Music Department has a full line-up in store for December beginning with the Noon Concert on Wednesday, December 7 and leading to the annual Christmas Concert on December 9 and 10 and Department Recitals on December 13. The programs promise an abundance of traditional and contemporary holiday tunes and no shortage of Christmas cheer. Mark your calendars for these dates, and watch for details in the December 4 NEWS BULLETIN.

SALVE REGINA COLLEGE HAS

"OLYMPUS ON THEIR MINDS" ONCE MORE!!

The Salve Regina College Theatre Company will present the musical-comedy "Olympus On My Mind" on November 18, 19, and 20 with a special faculty and staff presentation on November 17. Tickets are available at the Mercy Hall box office, extension 463, beginning October 18.

The plot of "Olympus" concerns the Greek God Jupiter, who assumes human form on earth in order to experience human emotions.

WORLD HUNGER ALERT
DAY OF PRAYER AND FASTING SPONSORED BY OXFAM AMERICA

Oxfam America, an international agency that funds self-help development projects and disaster relief in poor countries in Africa, Asia and the Carribean, will sponsor a day of fasting on Thursday, November 17. A prayer service will take place in Ochre Court Chapel at 4:30 p.m.

Oxfam America, which also prepares and distributes educational materials on the issues of development and hunger, started the Fast for a World Harvest in 1974. The fast, which may take the form of giving up one meal or the entire day's meals, takes place each year one week before Thanksgiving. Money saved on the fast may be donated to Oxfam America, or a person may demonstrate concern for hunger and poverty by attending the prayer service, praying in private, donating money without fasting or simply reading more about Oxfam America.

For more information about Oxfam America or to make a donation, contact the Campus Ministry Office, extension 302.

HUNGER CONCERT PROCEEDS GO TO AREA SOUP KITCHENS

The Music Department has donated $600 to area soup kitchens from proceeds raised in the past two annual Hunger Concerts. Benefactors include the Martin Luther King Center, Christian Action Center, St. Joseph's Church, the Salvation Army, St. Paul's Methodist Church and Community Baptist Church.

Brother James Loxham, Concert Director, states, "It is good to see the College involved in this program and wonderful that students in the Theatre and Music Departments willingly display their talents for this most worthy cause."

This year's concert, presented on October 14 in Ochre Court, was the third Music Department fundraiser to ease hunger. This year's theme, "A Broadway Review," showcased musical selections from contemporary and classic Broadway shows.

FOREIGN WAR COLLEGE WIVES VISIT CAMPUS

On Wednesday, November 9 a group of foreign wives of Naval War College officers were scheduled to tour the campus following a coffee reception and welcoming address by Vice President/Academic Dean Christopher Kiernan.

The tour, scheduled to begin at Wakehurst's International room and conclude at Ochre Court, has become an annual event for students in the College's English as a Second Language course offered at the War College. For many of the women attending, this tour offered their first view of an American college campus.

SALVE REGINA RECEIVES ANNUAL GALLUCCI SCHOLARSHIP

Sister M. Therese Antone, Vice President for Institutional Advancement, has announced that Salve Regina College has received a $500.00 grant from the annual Gallucci Scholarship.

The Scholarship has been awarded to the College since 1980, in memory of Captain Louis Gallucci, as an incentive for individuals interested in a career in the field of Administration of Justice.

SCIENTIFIC INSTRUMENT DONATED BY SALVE REGINA GRADUATE

Michael Holloway, a 1986 SRC Chemistry Graduate, and now a Senior Research Chemist for Polycast Inc., Stamford, Conn., has arranged for the donation of a major scientific instrument to the SRC Chemistry Department. The Diano-Hardy recording spectrophotometer, valued at $20,000, is accepted as a world wide standard for the measurement of color. The instrument is computer compatible for automatic computation of color difference, haze, transparency, and depth of color indexing.

Holloway, who also received a Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy from SRC in 1985, is currently enrolled in Connecticut State University where he's working on a Masters Degree in Chemistry and Engineering.

VOLUNTEER RECRUITMENT

Recruitment efforts are underway for START volunteers.

START, a unique student volunteer group, is already wellknown on campus. This dynamic team offers you an interesting experience and practical training through sharing alumni responsibilities and assisting with development projects.

START volunteers serve as support staff at the Governor's Ball, Alumni Phonathons, the Class Auction, and welcoming graduates back to the campus during Reunion Weekend as well as other social events.

If you are interested in joining the START group, please call or come to see Tom Hastings in the Alumni Office, third floor, Ochre Court.
