AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETING
AT SALVE REGINA COLLEGE

On Saturday, December 11, the 75th anniversary celebration of the Rhode Island Section of the American Chemical Society will officially begin with a dinner and dance at Salve Regina College in Newport.

The social hour at 6:30 p.m. and the dance at 9:00 p.m. will be held in the State Dining Room and Great Hall, respectively, of Ochre Court, the college's administration building. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. in Miley Hall.

The dinner speakers will be Professor Leallyan B. Clapp, Brown University, on the topic: "Rhode Island, the First Section of the ACS," and Professor Charles C. Price, University of Pennsylvania, President of the national Society, on the topic: "Evolution and World Order."

The Rhode Island Section of the American Chemical Society was founded 75 years ago in Newport and was the first local section of the Society.
