James D. Robison, 34, Assistant Professor and Chairman of the Art Department at Salve Regina College died on Wednesday after a short hospitalization at the Pratt Diagnostic Center, Boston.

Mr. Robison had many one-man and group exhibitions of his works locally and in galleries throughout the country. He recently won first prize for his relief painting Gloria Switch-B at the 13th Annual National Show sponsored by the Greater Fall River Art Association, Inc.

He received his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees from Eastern Illinois University. He received a Master of Fine Arts degree from Claremont Graduate School in California. In addition, he did special study at the Escuela Nacional de Bellas Artes, Lima, Peru.

Mr. Robison is survived by his wife Betty Sue who is an Instructor in Spanish at Salve Regina College and presently enrolled in the doctoral program at Brown University.

The funeral will be held Saturday, in Charleston, Illinois from the David Swickard Funeral Home to St. Charles Borromeo Church for a high mass of requiem. Burial will be in Janesville, Illinois.

A memorial mass will be held at the chapel of Salve Regina College, time to be announced.
