Salve Regina Math Group Participates
In Special Session At Coggeshall School

Mr. Lawrence T. Mello, principal of the Joseph Coggeshall School, Portsmouth, was host and instructor yesterday (1/28/72) to 33 Salve Regina College Juniors. The College mathematics group, accompanied by Sister Joan McInnis, R.S.M., instructor in mathematics and education, visited the school for a demonstration of the use of manipulative aids in teaching mathematics to elementary school children.

This field trip is the first in a series scheduled for Friday afternoons throughout the second semester, for students participating in Sister Joan's course in teaching elementary mathematics. The field trips are designed to acquaint each student with the latest methods and techniques utilized by the school systems throughout New England.
