Salve Regina College, Newport, Rhode Island, is initiating a tutorial program designed to serve both enrolled students, and members of the local community.

There are two dimensions to this program. Students seeking academic assistance in specific areas of college subject matter are encouraged to apply for tutoring. There are also refresher courses in math, science, and English planned for anyone who either wishes an academic review or who wishes to achieve G. E. D. status.

Both phases, under the administrative responsibility of the Dean of Students, Dr. Sheila Megley, is coordinated by Sister Mary Consilii Reynolds and Sister Mary Charles Francis Dubuque, faculty members at the Newport college.

The new program is an extension of a refresher program begun several years ago at the Navy base.
