FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 1972

Six faculty members at Salve Regina College, Newport, were elected yesterday by the faculty-at-large to serve on the rank, promotion and tenure committee.

They are: Dr. William Burrell, professor of English and education; Dr. Ascanio G. DiPippo, professor of chemistry; Robert J. McKenna, associate professor of history and politics; Sister Mary Noel Blute, R.S.M., assistant professor of English; Mrs. Catherine Graziano, assistant professor of nursing; and Sister Mary Consilii Reynolds, R.S.M., assistant professor of history and politics.

Election took place, as prescribed when the committee was created by the faculty in 1971-72, at the first faculty meeting of the new college year, held at 1:00 p.m. yesterday (9/5/72) in O'Hare Academic Center, on campus.

The rank, promotion and tenure committee is composed of the academic dean, Dr. Beverly Miller, three faculty members with rank of associate or full professor and three faculty members with rank of assistant professor plus three years service at Salve Regina College.

Its purpose is to screen those faculty members recommended for promotion and tenure by the area chairmen, to evaluate their qualifications for remaining as continuing members of the faculty, in relation to their contributions to the College.

One half of the committee will serve a one year term; the other half, a two year term, each of which will be determined by drawing at the first meeting of the committee, scheduled for November.
