FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SUMMER SESSION OPENS AT SALVE REGINA, NEWPORT

Salve Regina College's 25th summer session starts Monday, June 25, 1973 and will continue through August 2, 1973. The session encompasses a statewide program of coeducation, with courses being offered on the main Salve campus in Newport and various satellite campuses in the state. Better than 600 persons have signed up to participate.

Courses will be offered on an undergraduate level.

A program of studies in preparation for Medical School (Pre-Med) is featured. Law Enforcement Degree Programs will also be held.

Among the courses to be offered are: "Modern Chinese History," which investigates the environment, heritage and impact of modernity upon that ancient society; "Adolescent Psychology" emphasizes the concept of adolescence as a subculture; "The Architecture and Cityscape of Newport," a pre-bicentennial course, examines the city of Newport from an architectural viewpoint and its interrelation with history; "Criminal Procedure" discusses the orderly administration of prosecuting a criminal offense from arrest to trial.

A variety of workshops complete the summer program. A "Workshop in Open Education," for example, focuses on the problems and procedures concerning the transition from today's traditional classrooms toward more modern open-structured environments.

Non-credit courses such as "Workshop in Auto Mechanics," and "Workshop in Basic Self Defense," will be held.
