CHRISTMAS IN NEWPORT

"We Need . . . Christmas"

The Salve Regina College band and combined choruses will perform in a Christmas concert, "We Need...Christmas," on Saturday, December 13 at 8:00 p.m. in the Rogers High School auditorium, Newport. The concert is part of Newport's annual Christmas in Newport celebration.

Richard Carbotti, part-time art instructor at Salve Regina and Design Director of Perfect Surroundings in Newport, will decorate the stage for the one-night performance. Choral conductor will be Brother James Loxham with Bruce Abbott conducting the band.

Tickets will go on sale Monday, December 1 in Cecilia Hall and will be $4 for the general public, $2 for students and senior citizens and $1 for children under 12. Tickets may be obtained Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. For further information on the concert, "We Need...Christmas," contact the Music Department at extension 445.

OXFAM (continued)

Campus Ministry, in conjunction with the fast, organizes its own program each year. This year's theme for November 20th is Fast and Pray. Members of the College community are invited to gather in Ochre Court at 4:00 p.m. to begin the fast. Father Michael Malone will share some reflections on prayer as thanksgiving. His presentation will be followed by an hour of private prayer, then group sharing. The afternoon will close with a liturgy at 6:00 p.m.
