IT'S COMING, COMING, COMING!

One of the funniest and fun-filled events of the school year comes on the night of the traditional...

SENIOR CLASS AUCTION!

to be held on February 12th in Carey Mansion.

All types of auction items -- enticing, exotic, entrancing extraordinary, ex-anything -- are needed to stage this fabulous extravaganza! During winter break use your creative imagination to come up with the auction prize that will be the hit of the evening. Search your attic, your basement, your Christmas stocking! Become famous on campus for your connoisseurship, your superb good taste, your skilled handicraft on display!

Bring your auction offerings to the Alumni Office on the third floor of Ochre Court, where they will be credited in your name. And, MOST OF ALL, don't forget to reserve the night of February 12 for an unforgettable session of laughs and loot!

TENTH ANNUAL GOVERNOR'S BALL RAISES $60,000

The tenth annual Salve Regina College Governor's Ball in early December attracted nearly 400 attendees to festively decorated Ochre Court. Proceeds from the event are earmarked for scholarship funds. This year's event raised over $60,000.

Governor and Mrs. Edward D. DiPrete served as honorary chairmen and hosted the black-tie ball along with Salve President Sister Lucille McKillop. Mr. and Mrs. William J. Gilbane, Jr. of Barrington were chairmen of the Governor's Ball Planning Committee.

Patrons of the event danced to the continuous music of the Mac Chrupcala Orchestra while enjoying the environmental designs created by Richard Carbotti of Perfect Surroundings.

Salve Regina students from Sigma Phi Sigma, the Mercy National Honor Society, served as hosts and hostesses.

Dr. Arthur Frankel, Professor of Psychology, and Ms. Beth-Ann Trebisacci, a former psychology major at Salve and currently a graduate student at Connecticut College, are co-authors of a paper accepted for presentation at the 58th Annual Meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association to be held on April 9-12, 1987 in Arlington, Virginia. The paper, entitled "Female College Students' Perceptions of Abusive Behavior in Interpersonal Relationships as a Function of Self-Esteem and Sex-Role Orientation", describes research indicating that college women characterized by relatively high self-esteem and an androgynous sex-role orientation would react more assertively to physical and psychological abuse than their low self-esteem and feminine sex-typed counterparts.
